Locate Announcements/Class Communication

If your instructor has added an announcement/communication for the current week, you can see it on your Homepage Calendar:

A communication will always be blue in color, whereas course content will always be gray and white. From here, you can click on the object and open it to view the content included:

You can also see announcements/class communication on the course canvas after you open the course: